

Washington

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NBA Washington Correspondent

We Americans don't like to be preached to about our shortcomings. But sometimes there's no other way to stir us up. Take, for instance, this matter of voting. Apparently it doesn't do any good to talk in general terms about voting as a solemn duty or a rare privilege. Lectures along that line have been delivered for years. But in 1940, a presidential election year, only around half of all eligible voters actually went to the polls. If blunt language is needed to make Americans understand the shameful state of this performance, then it ought to be used.

We think we have the greatest democracy in the world. Yet in free elections in the past few years, Britain, Australia, Italy and even West Germany have vastly outstripped us in the basic democratic job of voting. Note that two of these countries had had lone experience under dictators. Yet each found more than 80 per cent of the people voting when their first real elections were held.

We sneer at Russia and her satellites because they are limited to a vote, and can merely record "yes" or "no." But 80 per cent of our own prospective voters didn't even exercise that much choice in 1940. Constantly we have it dinned into our ears nowadays that if we're to lick world communism we must sell democracy abroad. The uncomfortable fact is we haven't been practicing it as well as some of the people we're supposed to be selling it to: the West Germans, for example.

None of this means, of course, that we don't care about freedom and its rights and duties. It just means that we've allowed the complexity and fascination of our big city-industrial life to distract us from our responsibilities.

By now, though, we ought to have seen enough of the world's present perils to realize that our beautiful, gadget-filled existence might be wiped right off the face of the globe if we don't make the right decisions. Those decisions are fundamentally the people's job. And they can only make them at the polls.

Nov. 7 is another voting day, the first general election since 1940. The world will be watching to see whether Americans have learned to prize their voting rights more than another rubber of bridge, or a day at the ball game, or a regular place on the washing machine schedule.

Only Bowles Weathered OPA Storm

In three years we've had three Defense secretaries: Forrestal, Johnson and Marshall. If the turnover keeps on like that, the job soon will be as unpopular as the OPA administrator's used to be.

During and after World War II, it was just about taken for granted that any OPA boss had to be politically expendable. Nobody in Washington took more of a beating from Congress, the press and the public generally. A whole series of OPA chiefs retired to lick their wounds and enjoy the quiet of oblivion.

One, however, defied all the odds and dared to run for political office. That was Chester Bowles. He got himself elected Governor of Connecticut. Maybe it's Bowles' example that gives men courage to take jobs like that in Washington.

Hinton Plugs Big Melons in New Mexico

From the Carlsbad, New Mexico "Daily Current-Argus" comes a clipping which features some of Hemstead's famous melons. A-long with a 4-column picture showing a beautiful lady sitting between two melons and Claud Hinton looking on, is the following story:

"150-pound watermelons pictured above are two giants received by the Current-Argus from Carl Hinton, Commodity Credit Corporation official of Dallas.

"Hinton, who has a farm in Hemstead County, Ark., is explaining to beautiful Mrs. Jo Jean Aycock how the world's largest watermelons are grown in Arkansas. The watermelons are on display in a show window of the Carlsbad Hardware Co."

Yerger Tiger Booster Club Organized

Felix Evans, coach at Yerger High school, and W. V. Rutherford, principal, met with a group of citizens of Hope last night for the purpose of organizing a booster club.

The aim of this club is to make Hope, and the surrounding territory "school conscious."

The slogan is "All Out For Yerger." The officers were elected as follows: president, Thomas C. Davis; vice president, Fred Scott, sec. Ernestine Frierson, treas. Mary Jones, Asst. sec. Fannie Hicks, business manager, Hosea Watkins, reporter, E. L. Hicks.

The club will meet every first and third Tuesday night at the school at 7 o'clock. Let's fill the auditorium Tuesday night Oct. 3rd, 1950, at 7 o'clock.

Fair Park Is Humming With Activity

Fair Park in Hope, home of the Third District Livestock Show, is humming with activity today and the tempo is expected to increase over the week-end.

Stockmen are moving in show cattle and horses to compete for the $5,000 in prizes, various organizations are setting up displays in an effort to be ready for opening day, Monday, September 25. The show will continue through Saturday, September 30.

The Third District Show is one of the best held in the state and will be even better this year. A huge parade will open the affair and a nightly feature will be Burr Andrew's rodeo which attracts folks who like plenty of action.

For the first time there will be no admission to the show grounds — this alone assures large crowds throughout.

Another high-light of this event will be the dignitaries who include Mr. and Mrs. Leon Arnold of Texarkana. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold have been invited to lead the parade which will herald the opening of the annual Arkansas Third District Livestock Show. Mrs. Arnold is the president of the Texarkana Boots and Saddle Club, and Leon Arnold is rodeo chairman of the Four States Fair. Both are members of the quadrille of the Texarkana club, and participate in many horse shows.

Also, members of the Boots and Saddle Club of Texarkana have been invited to ride in the parade. Information has been received from various Round-Up Clubs throughout the district that they will be in Hope Monday for this opening event.

Floats will be entered by School organizations, civic clubs and merchants. Ben Owen, parade chairman, said today that this is scheduled to be one of the longest and best parades Hope has ever had.

The committee urges all individuals or firms who wish to enter something in the parade to register at Mr. Owen's office by Friday.

B&B Observe 13th Year This Week

Dewey Baber, owner and operator of B & B supermarket, Second and Hazel streets, today and Saturday is observing the 13th anniversary of his store and the first anniversary in its present location.

Today and Saturday there will be music, special programs and special records of interviews with customers which they may keep. Many outstanding values will be offered and Mr. Baber extends an invitation to everyone to visit with him during the two days.

Shipbuilders May Go on Strike

Camden, N. J., Sept. 22 — (AP) — Six thousand employees of the New York Shipbuilding corporation were under union instruction today to repeat the sitdown strike which yesterday closed the company's yards.

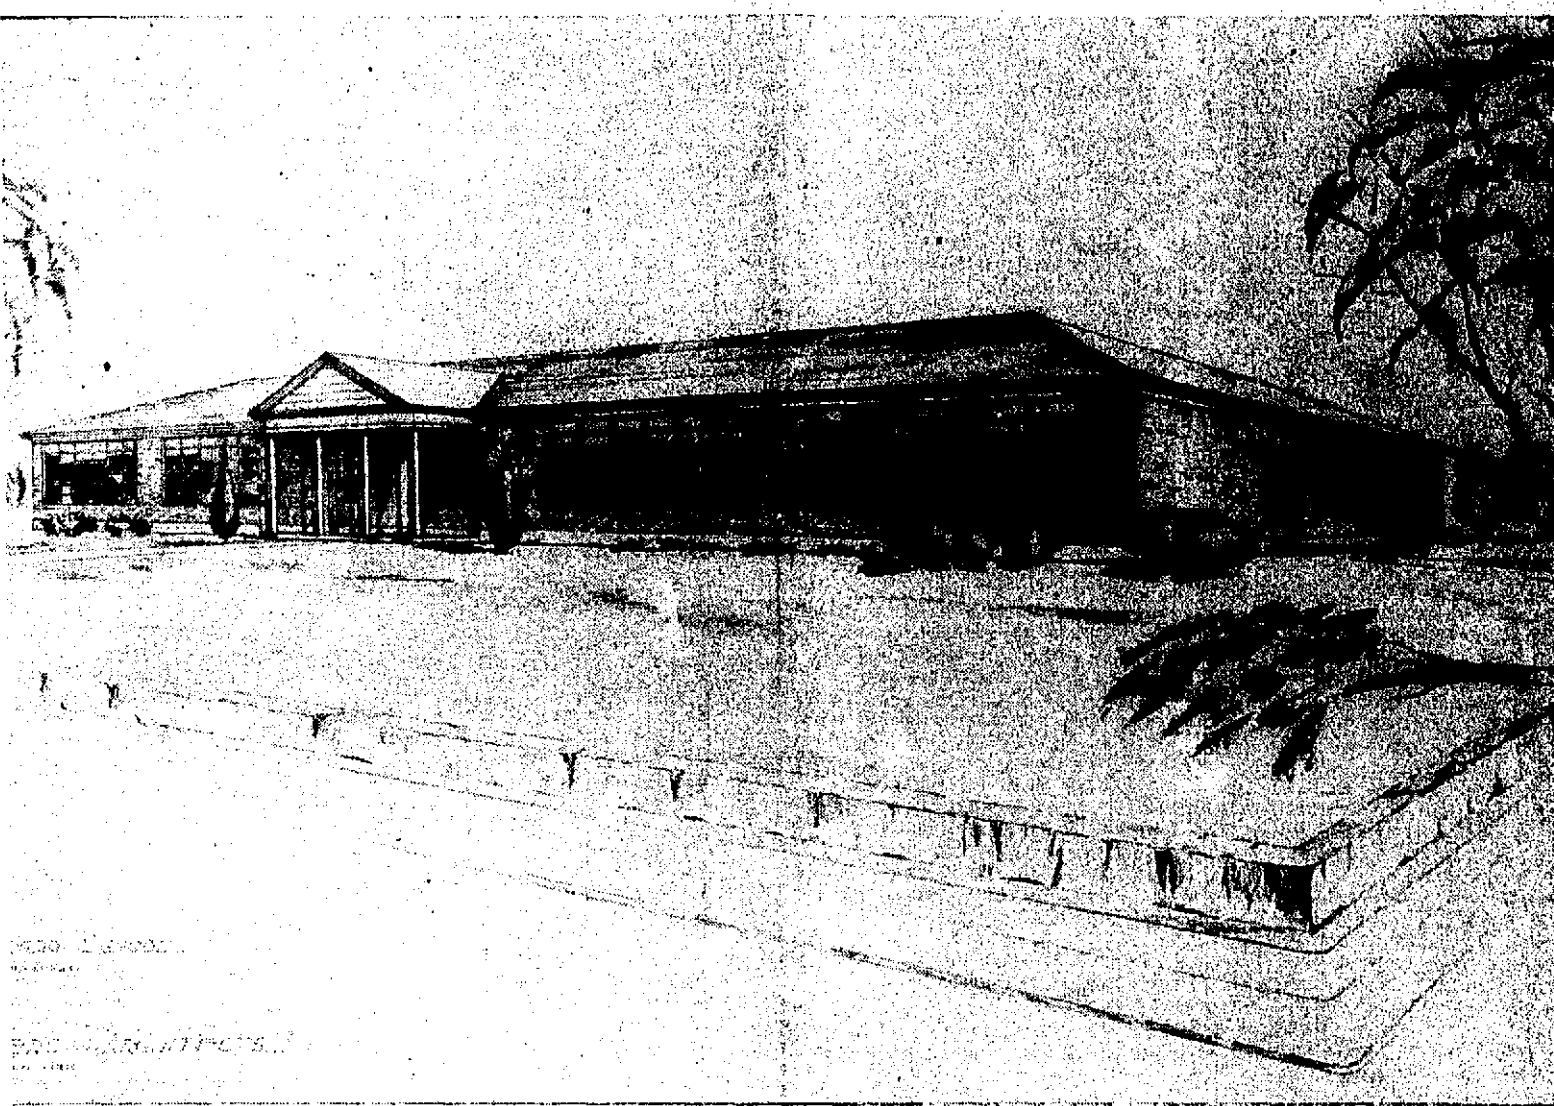

Officials of local Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (AFL) instructed its members to punch time clocks and then sit down as they did yesterday. The workers remained at the plant until noon before filing out.

Thomas Sauln executive secretary of the local, said the work stoppage was called in protest over what he described as mass layoffs and in an effort to speed up government building of an "adequate merchant marine."

There was no immediate comment from the company.

About half of the 6,000 workers at a mass meeting last night voted to authorize the local's executive board to order an indefinite continuance of the work stoppage if necessary.

The shipyard ordered 1,100 men furloughed last week after the government directed structural changes in three 13,000-ton passenger-cargo liners under construction at the Camden yards.

The above plan is one of two six-room units for the Negro elementary program. One unit will be constructed at Yerger School site and one at Hopewell site. Five classrooms will be added to the Negro high school.

This is a part of the school improvement program that will be up for approval in the annual school election, Tuesday, September 26, in Hope School District 1-A.

Rally Day at Presbyterian Church Sunday

In observance of Rally Day, Sunday, September 24th, the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church has prepared a special program. This program will begin promptly at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the Church auditorium and the theme this year is "People! People! People!"

One of the main parts of the program will be the special offering for Education. This money goes to support regional directors and their assistants; it makes available to churches unable to buy its free literature; it provides vacation Bible schools in areas which could not have them otherwise; and it furthers the work of the Division of Higher Education.

At the close of the program, promotion certificates will be presented to all children who are being promoted from one department to another.

Chemist Gets 15 Years for Spying

Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 22 — (UP) — Chemist Alfred Dean Slack was sentenced today to 15 years in prison as a spy for Russia, a longer term than that recommended by Attorney Gen. J. Howard McGrath.

U. S. District Attorney Robert L. Taylor, speaking in a stern voice, told Slack as he faced the bar that with "due difference" to McGrath he felt compelled to "depart" from his recommendation.

At Slack's arraignment here last Monday, when he pleaded guilty to feeding munitions secrets to Russia during World War II, government attorneys had recommended only 20 years, with McGrath's approval, because of the "degree of guilt."

They indicated that the government would seek a stiffer penalty for atomic spy Harry Gold, a Philadelphia bio-chemist to whom Slack gave secrets and samples of the high explosive RDX. RDX is the most powerful explosive short of the atomic bomb.

Slack, who worked in a Tokyo cabaret and apparently a rear area sergeant had been trying to two-time the private.

"Some sergeant told me you died," she wrote in quaint pidgin English, "so I thought you died and I prayed to get and present fruits and beer to your ghost yesterday."

Other improvements to be made in Negro schools will be as follows:

1. Painting and repair of present buildings
2. Furniture and equipment
3. Sewage and water system at Hopewell
4. Improving water system at Fulton

White school improvements are as follows:

1. New junior high building.
2. Repair of roof and sewage system at Fulton
3. Paint and repair present buildings
4. Furniture and equipment

To provide for the School Improvement Program and Budget of Expenditures, the Board of Directors propose a tax levy of 25 mills. This tax levy includes the present continuing levy for the retirement of present indebtedness.

Seven mills of the above proposed tax levy of 25 mills is for a proposed bond issue of $300,000 estimated to run 20 years for the purpose of erecting and equipping new school buildings and making improvements and additions to present school buildings which will constitute a continuing annual levy until the principal of and interest on the bonds are paid in full.

Many American GIs Have Made Arrangements With Jap Girls—Here Is How Some of Them Feel

By HAL BOYLE
Korea — (AP) — One day on a hillside north of Taegu I was talking with a group of doughboys about their Japanese girl friends.

A major had told me that at least 30 per cent of American troops who have spent much time in Japan have set up some kind of arrangement with a Japanese girl.

There is something endlessly touching and pathetic in these romances between our occupation forces and the women of an alien land and alien culture. Many reflect only male opportunism. But others reflect the hunger for lonely and troubled men for stability and love.

The odds are against these impromptu housekeeping setups ever ripening into permanence. There are many barriers to cross. But it is amazing how often the unions have developed into deep and genuine partnerships which the soldiers by Christian marriage.

"One thing about a Japanese girl, once she falls for you she will stay faithful," said one soldier on the hillside. "I don't worry about that as much as the guys who have girls back in the states."

"Japanese girls don't try to gold-dig you a young private said.

"They're willing to give more than they get. They don't ask anything of you."

Rather shyly he pulled out a letter and handed it to me. Just then an enemy sniper opened up on our position and I had to read the letter lying face down in a nearby ditch. It was from a girl who worked in a Tokyo cabaret, and apparently a rear area sergeant had been trying to two-time the private.

"Some sergeant told me you died," she wrote in quaint pidgin English, "so I thought you died and I prayed to get and present fruits and beer to your ghost yesterday."

"But your letter come today, trust nobody except you. Please come back to anywhere in Japan. I'll try best to find you. You saying you want know way for send money for me but I can't tell you about money because you fighting for peace. I don't have any hope except you."

And then she told her absent lover: "We can look only one things together. Do you know what? That is moon. Always look at sky can remember.

"I'm surely will be nice girl and waiting for you. You forget me. I'm worry one things only if somethings happen you. I pray your safety and good lucky."

She signed it with her love. When the sniper's fire had lifted I handed the letter back to the private and he silently put it in the pocket over his heart.

Then he picked up his rifle and went back to his business. War is strange and peace is often stranger. But unless the Gods of battle send a bullet through that letter I feel sure the private's little cabaret girl will fare better than did Madame Butterfly when this noisy time is past.

M. H. Moody Dies at the Age of 69

Marshall H. Moody, aged 68, died last night at his home on South Main Street.

He is survived by his widow, four brothers, F. T. Moody of Waldo, C. C. of Hope and Ben F. Moody of Clarendon and Cecil S. Moody of San Antonio; three sisters, Mrs. W. M. Fincher of Waldo, Mrs. Mattie Lavender and Miss Mattie Moody of Dallas.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday at Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home with burial in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Bride-to-Be Hiding From Whistler

Paradis, La., Sept. 22 — (AP) — An 18-year-old bride-to-be was hiding out today from a phantom whistler who has threatened to kill her before she can marry her fiancé Oct. 1.

Mrs. Clifford Cadow said last night she had sent her daughter away from the home where an owl, called on penitence present indebtedness. Seven mills of the above proposed tax levy of 25 mills is for a proposed bond issue of $300,000 estimated to run 20 years for the purpose of erecting and equipping new school buildings and making improvements and additions to present school buildings which will constitute a continuing annual levy until the principal of and interest on the bonds are paid in full.

Five persons were hurt in a three-way accident yesterday about 8 miles west on Highway 67.

An automobile driven by Wayne Cagle, 26-year-old Arkadelphia car salesman, left the road, skidded back across ramming a Highway Department truck and careened into another truck driven by R. S. Russell of Okolona.

Mrs. Mattie Fuller, 25, of Dallas, who was riding with Cagle was thrown from the car to the pavement and is in a serious condition in the Josephine Hospital. Cagle suffered a leg injury and was removed to a Little Rock Hospital today.

Three Highway Department employees riding in the truck were injured; B. L. Dorman and Truman Faulkner received leg injuries, and Ray Cranfield a knee injury. Forrest Cobb and T. E. Phillips were not hurt. Occupants of the Okolona truck also escaped injury.

Both trucks and the automobile were badly damaged. Indirectly the accident resulted in another this morning.

A chain on a wrecker pulling the highway truck this morning, slipped causing the truck to collide with another driven by James Matthews of New Brunswick. Nobody was hurt and little damage resulted.

State policeman Ward investigated.

Miss King Is Queen of Nevada Show

Miss Kay King of Prescott was crowned Queen of the 1950 Nevada County Fair in ceremonies held on the Fair Grounds in Prescott last night. Miss King was selected from a group of six lovely young ladies representing various towns in Nevada County.

George Frazier of KXAR acted as master of ceremonies and Judges for the contest were: Ole Olsen, Eva Reynerson and Doyle Reeves of Hope.

Miss King was crowned by Gene Hale, President of the Nevada County Fair association. A large crowd witnessed the contest.

Nearly every state in the Union has had a tornado at some time.

Congress Wants Veto Quickly So It Can Act

Washington, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Law-makers anxious to start a fall vacation hoped today that President Truman will send them quickly an anticipated veto of legislation to curb home front subversives so they can pass it over his veto and go home.

Both the house, which would act first, and the senate were ready to act.

There was no official notice that Mr. Truman would turn thumbs down on the bill passed this week by a 312 to 2 house vote and a 51 to 7 senate count in both cases far more than the two-thirds needed to upset a veto.

The President previously has voiced his opposition to many of the bill's provisions.

They include a requirement that Communist and front organizations register with the attorney general, and authority for the government to throw dangerous subversives into internment camps during war or other emergencies involving armed force.

Marines Meet Fierce Fighting Inside City

Tokyo, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Marines with bayonets and machine guns battled 10,000 Reds tonight on the near edge of Seoul.

Fleeing civilians said the communists are heavily armed, using stone barricades and digging trenches in the streets for last-ditch defense of the capital.

The Red defenders are isolated by Allied air attacks from getting reinforcements and their positions are under constant Allied shelling.

While bitter hand-to-hand fighting raged on two sides of the city Allied forces made out 20-mile advances from the old and new beachhead cut off Red reinforcements at Seoul.

The airfield at Suwon, 20 miles south of the capital, fell to the U. S. Seventh Division rolling down from the front. Other elements of the Seventh Division are attacking the rapidly expanding beachhead.

Allied forces were pushing ahead on all sectors of the west beachhead. In some places the Reds were retreating, but in others they were taken prisoner.

To stand off reinforcements the Red high command sent out 20-mile advances from the old and new beachhead cut off Red reinforcements at Seoul.

Seventh Infantry Division drove into Suwon, 20 miles south of Seoul, from the old beachhead.

Suwon is a vital communications hub astride the major highway leading to the Pusan front in the far south.

U. S. Marines used flame throwers to make a wide swath through Seoul's western suburb of Yongsu, on the south-west side.

Other marines entered the city from the northwest.

These were the toughest phases of the amphibious assault at Seizing Seoul, the neck distribution center for the north. Fighting and shelling from the north put the Reds in the jaws of a giant vise.

A tank-led Red mystery reported yesterday by intelligence to be moving west from Red China's Manchurian border remained in Washington Army spokesmen they had heard nothing of reinforcements and nothing was reported by the 10th Division.

A spokesman at General Arthur's headquarters said the infantry division had entered Suwon without opposition in addition to blocking reinforcements for Seoul from the south. Suwon provides an area that can handle good-size trucks and heavy equipment.

The field has been used for air transports evacuating before the Reds entered July 1 — one week after South Korea.

Suwon is 120 air miles west of Wasegan, where the 24th division advanced to expand the north beachhead across the Han River. This was on the way to Kumsong, Tachon, Seoul, Elwha and the perimeter. Allied forces are going up to the river morning.

The fighting in Suwon's dungs suburb was heavy in closely jammed and cluttered factory buildings.

The fierceness of the fighting in the suburb foreshadowed the same struggle in Seoul, a city where the Reds have isolated troops.

HOPE STATE, HOPE, ARKANSAS

SECTION 1. That said bonds and coupons be substantially the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ARKANSAS
COUNTY OF HEMPSTEAD
CITY OF HOPE

Water and Electric Revenue Bond

NO. _____

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

That the City of Hope, in the County of Hempstead, State of Arkansas, for value received, hereby promises to pay, solely from the special fund provided therefor as hereinafter set forth to bearer, the sum of _____ DOLLARS

On the first day of September, 1950, with interest thereon at the rate of two per centum (2%) per annum from September 1, 1950 until paid, payable on March 1, 1951, and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of September and March of each year, upon presentation and surrender of the annexed coupons as they severally become due. Both principal hereon and interest hereon shall be payable in such funds as at the time of the respective payments are legal tender for the payment of debts due the United States of America at the office of the Union National Bank of Little Rock, Arkansas.

This bond is one of a series of 65 bonds, aggregating Sixty-one Thousand, Six Hundred Fifty Dollars ($61,650.00), all of like tenor and effect except as to number, denomination and maturities, dated as of September 1, 1950, numbered from 1 to 65, both inclusive, and is issued for the purpose of the improvement, extension and enlargement of the existing waterworks and electric systems now serving the City of Hope (hereinafter called the "Waterworks and Electric Systems").

This bond and the series of which it forms a part are issued under authority of the statutes of Arkansas, and do not constitute an indebtedness of said City of Hope within any constitutional or statutory limitation. Said bonds are payable solely from a fixed amount of gross revenues from the waterworks and electric systems, which amount shall be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds as the same become due and payable. Said amount has been duly set aside and pledged as a special fund for that purpose and identified as the "Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2," created by Ordinance No. 661, duly adopted by the City Council of said City of Hope on the 19th day of September, 1950, under which this bond is authorized to be issued, and the said City of Hope has fixed and has covenanted and agreed to maintain the water and electric systems which shall be sufficient at all times to provide for the creation of separate depreciation funds for necessary replacements to said waterworks and electric systems, to provide for the payment of the reasonable expenses of operation and maintenance of said waterworks and electric systems, and to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds as the same become due and payable.

This bond and all other bonds of this issue shall be subject to a prior lien on the revenues of the City of Hope for the payment of $64,000.00 1.80% Hope Water and Electric Revenue Bonds dated April 1, 1949, and of the City of Hope 2 1/4% Sewer Revenue Bonds dated April 1, 1950, in the amount of $122,700.00. The bonds of this issue shall be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest from any fund remaining from the proceeds of the sale of this issue of bonds after completion of the improvements, or from any unexpended surplus funds from the revenues of the system or from any other source, and shall be callable for payment from funds from any source at par with accrued interest on any interest paying date after March 1, 1955. In the event a call is made, the City shall publish notice of such call for redemption once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation throughout the State of Arkansas and published in the City of Little Rock, Arkansas, giving the number and maturity of each bond being called, the first publication to be at least fifteen days prior to the date fixed for redemption, and after the date fixed for redemption, each bond called will cease to bear interest, provided funds for its payment are on deposit with the paying agent at that time.

This bond is expressly made negotiable by the statutes under which it is issued, and is issued with the intent that the laws of the State of Arkansas shall govern the construction thereof.

The City of Hope hereby acknowledges receipt of payment in full for this bond and all other bonds of this issue, and hereby declares that it has no offset, counterclaim or defense to this bond and all the other bonds of this issue.

IT IS HEREBY CERTIFIED, RECITED AND DECLARED that all acts, conditions and things required to exist, happen and be performed pursuant to and in the issuance of this bond, have been performed in due time, form and manner, as required by law, and that sufficient of the income and revenue which is deemed to be derived from the operation of said waterworks and electric systems has been pledged to and will be set aside into said special fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds.

This bond shall not be valid until it shall have been authenticated by the certificate hereon, duly signed by the Union National Bank of Little Rock, Arkansas.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The City of Hope, Arkansas, by its City Council, has caused this bond to be signed by the Mayor and City Clerk thereof, and sealed with the corporate seal of said City, and has caused the coupons hereto attached to be executed by the facsimile signature of said Mayor, all as of the first day of September, 1950.

SECTION 5. The Council has heretofore fixed the rates to be charged for the water and electric services to be furnished by the said systems, and the Council hereby binds them to be reasonable and necessary minimum rates to be charged, and the Council hereby confirms and continues said rates.

And this Council further finds and declares that such rates as above mentioned will produce a total revenue sufficient to pay the total operation and maintenance expense of the waterworks and electric systems and provide for the payment of the bonds issued to finance the cost of the improvement, extension and enlargement of the waterworks and electrical systems, both principal and interest, as the same fall due and are payable, and to create all funds herein provided.

Except as herein authorized, said rates shall never be reduced until all bonds herein authorized and all coupons thereto attached have been paid in full and shall, when necessary, be interested in any amount sufficient to provide for the maintenance and operation of the systems, providing an adequate reserve for depreciation and the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 hereinafter described. Whenever the total amount of the outstanding bonded indebtedness has been reduced to sixty per centum (60%) of its original total or less, exclusive of interest, and it shall be made to appear to the Trustee that the earning capacity of the waterworks and electric systems is sufficiently large to justify it, a reduction may be made in the rates hereinabove described, by and with the consent of the Trustee, and to continue for such time as the Trustee in its sole discretion may deem consistent with the ability of the City to meet bond and interest payments promptly.

Provided no reduction in rates shall be made that will produce an estimated net revenue, after setting up necessary funds for operation, maintenance and depreciation of the systems, less than one hundred twenty-five per centum (125%) of the average annual requirements for all the payments of principal and interest of all water and electric revenue bonds then outstanding, and although a reduction in rates may be granted, the original rates hereinabove described may be restored at any time later, upon the sole demand of the Trustee. The discretion of the Trustee shall be final, either as to granting, refusing, or terminating any reduction in rates.

SECTION 6. All moneys paid as accrued interest on the bonds issued hereunder shall be paid to the City Treasurer, and by him placed in the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 (hereinafter created) and applied to the payment of interest payable on such bonds on the next interest payment date.

SECTION 7. The Treasurer of the City shall be the custodian of the revenues derived from the systems.

SECTION 8. Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2

(1) There shall be paid by the City Treasurer from the net revenues derived from the operation of the systems, after making adequate provision for depreciation, maintenance and operation, into a fund which is hereby created and designated Water and Electric Revenue Bond No. 2, the sums in the amounts and at the times hereinafter stated in subsection (2) for the purpose of providing funds for the payment of the principal and interest on the bonds as they mature according to the following schedule, and as a reserve for contingencies:

YEAR	BOND NOS.	PRINCIPAL	INTEREST	TOTAL
Mar. 1 & Sept. 1 of each year
1951	1-6, inc.	$5850.00	$616.50	$6466.50
1952	7-12	5500.00	585.00	6085.00
1953	13-18	5500.00	585.00	6085.00
1954	19-24	5500.00	585.00	6085.00
1955	25-30	6000.00	635.00	6635.00
1956	31-37	6500.00	685.00	7185.00
1957	38-44	6500.00	685.00	7185.00
1958	45-51	6500.00	685.00	7185.00
1959	52-58	7000.00	735.00	7735.00
1960	59-65	7000.00	735.00	7735.00

(2) There shall be paid by the City Treasurer from the net revenues as above defined, into the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2, beginning on the first business day of the month after the delivery of the bonds and continuing on the first business day of each month thereafter until all the bonds with interest issued under this ordinance have been paid in full, the sum to be paid for such payment, to be equal to one-fifth (1/5) of the next installment of interest and one-tenth (1/10) of the next installment of principal of the bonds and the paying agent's fee, provided, however, that when in any fiscal year no principal or interest of the bonds of this issue is in default and the amount in said Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 equals the total amount required for making all principal and interest payments on the bonds of this issue during the succeeding twelve months, the amount so payable each month into said fund shall be equal to one-sixth (1/6) of the next installment of interest and one-twelfth (1/12) of the next installment of principal and the paying agent's fees.

(3) If the revenues of the systems in any month are insufficient to make the required payment of the first day of the following month into the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2, then the amount of any deficiency in the payment made shall be added to the amount otherwise required to be paid into the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 on the first day of the next month. The amount by which payments in any fiscal year exceed the aggregate amount of principal and interest payable on the next succeeding fiscal year shall be held in said Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 as a reserve for contingencies and used solely as herein provided; provided, however, that when the moneys held in the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2, including the reserve for contingencies, shall be and remain sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all the bonds then outstanding, the City Treasurer shall not be obliged to make any further payments into the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2. If, for any reason, the City Treasurer shall fail at any time to make any of such payments into the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2, any sums then held as a reserve for contingencies shall be used to the extent necessary in the payment of the interest on and the principal of the bonds, but such reserve shall be reimbursed from the net revenues as above defined; out of the first available moneys in said net revenues, after making the payments hereinabove required to be made. All moneys in the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 shall be used solely for the purpose of paying the interest on and the principal of the bonds issued under this ordinance and the paying agent's fees.

SECTION 9. It shall be the duty of the City Treasurer to withdraw from the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 at least fifteen days before the maturity date of any bond or interest coupon issued hereunder, and to deposit with the Union National Bank of Little Rock, Arkansas, the paying agent, an amount equal to the amount of such bond or coupon for the sole purpose of paying the same, together with the paying agent's fee of one-eighth of one per cent on principal and one-fourth of one per cent on interest; provided, the minimum fee shall be one dollar; and no withdrawal of funds from said Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 shall be made for any other purpose, except as hereinbefore provided. Such deposit shall be at the sole risk of the City and shall not operate as a payment of the bonds or coupons until so applied.

Payments from the fund hereinabove set out shall be made by check or voucher signed by the Superintendent or Manager of the Systems and by the City Treasurer, and drawn on the depository with which the moneys in said fund shall have been deposited, and each such check or voucher shall briefly specify the purpose of the expenditure.

SECTION 10. The City hereby agrees to make all payments on bonds and interest only through the paying agent. All bonds paid or purchased, either at or before maturity, shall be canceled when such payment or purchase is made, together with all unexpired coupons appertaining thereto, and held by the City Treasurer, and shall not be reissued. All unpaid interest coupons maturing on or before the date of such payment or purchase shall continue to be payable to the respective bearer thereof.

SECTION 11. The bonds, together with interest therein, shall be payable solely out of the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2 as hereinbefore defined and shall be a valid claim of the holders thereof only against said fund, and the amount of the revenues pledged to said fund, which amount of said revenues is hereby irrevocably pledged and assigned to the Trustee for the equal and ratable payment of the bonds issued under this ordinance and then outstanding, and shall be used for no other purpose than to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as the same accrue.

SECTION 12. All revenues from the system received by the City Treasurer shall be deposited by him in such depository or depositories as may be lawfully designated from time to time, provided such depository or depositories shall shall be construed in such manner as preventing the issuance by the City of additional revenue bonds to finance or pay the cost of constructing any future betterments or improvements to the systems; provided, however, that in order to insure the payment of the bonds, the City shall issue such additional revenue bonds while any of the bonds of this issue remain outstanding only if, at the time of the passage of an ordinance authorizing the additional bonds, the revenues of the systems for the fiscal year immediately preceding the passage of said ordinance shall have been sufficient in amount so that, if they were deemed to be the total revenues derived from the entire waterworks and electric systems after the then contemplated betterments and improvements had been completed, they would be at least equal to the maximum amount required to pay the cost of operation, maintenance, and depreciation of the systems for the next ensuing fiscal year and to pay the combined principal and interest maturity requirements of both the remainder of the present bonds and the bonds of the new issue.

SECTION 14. The systems shall be operated upon a fiscal year basis, beginning April 13 of each year and ending on and including the following April 12.

SECTION 15. It is covenanted and agreed by the City with the holder or holders of the bonds, or any of them, that it will faithfully and punctually perform all duties with reference to the systems required by the Constitution and statutes of the State of Arkansas, including making and collecting of reasonable and sufficient rates lawfully established for services rendered by the systems, segregating the revenue of the systems and its application to the respective funds herein created.

SECTION 16. So long as any of the bonds are outstanding, the City will not mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber the systems or any part thereof or any revenues therefrom, except as herein provided, and will not sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of any substantial portion of the same.

SECTION 17. The City will keep proper books of records and accounts (separate from all other records and accounts) in which complete and correct entries shall be made of any transactions relating to the systems.

SECTION 18. If there be default in the payment of the principal of or interest on the bonds, or if the City shall fail to keep any other obligation which it herein assumes, and such default shall continue for thirty days thereafter, any court having jurisdiction in any proper action, which may be instituted either by the Trustee on behalf of all the bondholders, or by any holder of a bond in default, may appoint a receiver to administer the systems on behalf of the city, with power to charge and collect rates sufficient to provide for the expenses of the receivership, the payment of the bonds and interest thereon, and for the payment of the operating expenses, and to apply the income and revenues in conformity with this ordinance providing for the issuance of said bonds, but when all defaults are cured, the receivership shall be ended and the management and control of the systems restored to the City.

SECTION 19. The City further covenants and agrees that if default is made in the payment of any bond or coupon, or if the City fails to meet any sinking fund requirements, the holder of such bond may declare that bond immediately due and payable, and such bonds shall thereupon be immediately due and payable in default, and either the Trustee on behalf of all the bondholders or any bondholder for himself may institute suit to enforce the undertakings herein assumed by the city, and, if necessary, to enforce the pledge of net revenues.

SECTION 20. The bonds in the face amount of $61,650.00 shall be prepared and executed by the City and be delivered to Union Planters National Bank & Trust Company, Memphis, Tennessee, upon payment by the City in cash of the full purchase price of said bonds, together with accrued interest on said bonds, to the Treasurer of the City of Hope, Arkansas. The money received by the Treasurer for accrued interest shall be deposited by him in the Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund No. 2. All the moneys received by him for the bond issue except accrued interest shall be used by him solely for the payment for the improvements, extension and addition to the plant, in accordance with said plans heretofore approved by the Council and on file with the City Clerk.

SECTION 21. The bonds authorized hereby shall be callable for payment before maturity according to the terms set out in the bond form.

SECTION 22. The pledge of net revenues shall be evidenced by a certified copy of this ordinance recorded as a mortgage and pledge in the office of the Circuit Clerk and ex officio recorder of Hempstead County, Arkansas.

SECTION 23. The provisions of this ordinance are a binding contract between the City and the holders of the bonds authorized hereby.

SECTION 24. Whenever reference is made in this ordinance to a trustee, it shall refer to the Union National Bank of Little Rock, Arkansas. The said Trustee shall be responsible only for wilful misconduct in the execution of this trust. The recitals of fact herein contained, and contained in the bonds, are statements of the City and shall not be construed as being made by the Trustee. The Trustee shall not be required to effect insurance against fire or damage to the systems, nor to advance any money to pay insurance premiums, nor to pay any charges or special assessments against said property, nor to see that this pledge of revenue is properly recorded and kept

Vishinsky Walks Out on Dewey

New York, Sept. 22 — (UP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky and his deputy, Jacob A. Malik, stalked out of a United Nations banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in tight-lipped anger last night when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey accused Russia of keeping 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 slaves.

The Soviet UN delegates rose from their seats on the speaker's dias as 1,500 UN delegates and workers applauded Dewey's charge. They left the ballroom with other members of their delegation. Dewey watched them leave unsmilingly and remarked:

"I must say I am disappointed by the withdrawal of those who plot the destruction of the world."

Some officials said they thought the walkout was "planned" although Vishinsky and Malik had given no indication that they had seen prepared copies of Dewey's speech. Copies had been distributed to newspapers and wire services before the banquet was given. It looked as

The formally-clad Russians had chatted jovially during the dinner with distinguished guests including Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Bernard Baruch, British UN delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb, and retiring general assembly President Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines for whom the banquet was given. It looked as though party manners had won the day over international tensions until Dewey said:

"It would be folly to ignore the harsh fact that while the Soviet union has 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 people living in slave labor under conditions which amount to torture unto death, no person anywhere in the world can sleep nights with any sense of security."

Vishinsky, a 50-year-old veteran of numerous walkouts at the UN, they rose together and strode to the elevators followed by a few hisses and boos. The crowd was hushed as Dewey finished his speech.

Nationalists May Decide With Russia

New York, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Nationalists China and Soviet Russia, usually the bitterest of enemies in the United Nations, are expected to join today to oppose an American attempt to hand over the Formosa problem to the general assembly.

The U. N. proposal comes before the powerful 14-nation steering committee when it meets this morning at 9:45 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Both China and Russia insist that the Pacific island is Chinese territory and therefore the U. N. has no right to interfere in its problems. Moreover both countries have their own Chinese items they want put on the agenda.

Chiang Kai-shek's representatives oppose U. N. discussion because the island is the last stronghold of the Nationalist government and they want to maintain legal title to it.

The Russians insist Formosa is Chinese territory because they want the Communist government at Peking, which they claim is the only legal government of China, to take it over without international opposition.

After the invasion of South Korea, on June 25, President Truman ordered the U. S. seventh fleet to patrol the Formosa straits to stop the Chinese Reds from attacking the island or the in force as a pledge, nor shall it be required to have notice or be deemed to have had notice of any default of the City in the failure to perform any of the conditions of this ordinance, unless said trustee shall have been specifically notified in writing of said default; nor shall it be required to take any action hereunder until it has been indemnified to its satisfaction by the holders of the bonds herein mentioned, or some of them, against loss or damage on account thereof.

SECTION 25. It is hereby declared that the provisions of this ordinance are separable and, if any provision of this ordinance shall for any reason be held illegal or invalid, it shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the ordinance.

SECTION 26. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 27. It is hereby ascertained and declared that there is immediate need, in order to protect the health and property of the inhabitants of the City, for the improvement, extension and enlargement of the waterworks and electric system now serving the City of Hope, Arkansas; therefore, an emergency exists and this ordinance is necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, and shall take effect and be in force without delay from and after its passage.

early this morning in what officers said was "good spirits."

He stood erect and only slightly more nervous than he had been on Monday as Taylor re-read the charges against him. He seemed to sense as the reading became more prolonged that his case at least would not be lighter than that recommended by the government.

His head dropped as Taylor pronounced sentence, and he looked around appealingly at his attorneys, one of whom on Monday had called him a "weakling" who was led astray by the wiles of gold.

His lawyers made no move, and guards moved up to take him from the courtroom.

As he left, his face bore a faint, cryptic smile.

Taylor wasted few words with the defendant, beyond his reiteration of the charges and his reference to McGrath's recommendation for punishment.

He told Slack he could have received the death penalty and that, to him, his crime called for a longer term than 10 years because it was a "national offense."

Bride to Be unknown man has whistled a shrill and eerie funeral march a most nightly for months and more recently has threatened to kill the girl, pretty Jacquelyn Cadow.

Mrs. Cadow refused to say where her daughter was hiding but denied that Jacquelyn had attempted to foil the whistler by marrying State Trooper Herbert Belsom, 26, ahead of schedule.

"My daughter is going to get married Oct. 1. She is going to have a big wedding and nobody is going to stop her," the mother said.

A half dozen of Sheriff Leon Vial's deputies who had been guarding the snug, White House, were nowhere to be seen after Jacquelyn had left the house last night. Both the sheriff, a resident of Hahnville, was reported to be in Paradise.

Paradis is 25 miles west of New Orleans.

Mrs. Cadow said the whistling-wolf calls — was first heard around the Cadow home one night in February. When Jacquelyn's engagement was announced Aug. 1, she said, the whistling changed to a funeral dirge and was heard more frequently. Soon there began a series of telephone threats to kill Jacquelyn before her wedding day.

Several times before Jacquelyn has fled her home in an effort to get away from the funeral whistling. But each time a telephone call has been placed to the house to which she had fled, with the phantom whistler warning that he knew where she was and planned to kill her.

Kindness Certainly Pays Off

Los Angeles, Sept. 22 — (UP) — Once upon a time, more than 25 years ago, a vacationing family from Denver was kind to an Austrian immigrant.

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Tyson, who now live in Los Angeles picked Charles W. Babonet up when they met him hitchhiking to the beach here.

They had never seen him again. But Babonet never forgot that happy day he spent with the Tysons, their daughter, and her playmate.

Throughout the years, Babonet lived here as a bachelor in a tiny cottage. Nobody knew, before he died in his wheelchair last Aug. 7, that the aged man who was a rich fair prince in disguise.

For in a will scrawled on a piece of wrapping paper, Babonet left the Tyson's $100,000 of his $500,000 estate.

His entire fortune went to charities and to persons who had been kind to him.

Tyson, a former oil engineer who lost a fortune of his own in the stock market, could scarcely remember Babonet.

"It was so long ago," he said. "I seem to recall a small dark man, but it's all so vague in my memory. I can hardly believe he left us that money."

Babonet remembered, however, and in poor — but legally correct — English he wrote in his will.

"I hereby give, devise and bequeath to a young party so kind years ago to pick me up on highway going to beach for the day in their car, had their little daughter they called Babe and her little friend all singing and so happy."

"This little friend she called me. He told me he was an orphan reared by good friends. I about same way went to America to shift for myself and if I live to be a thousand I never forget that day and their happiness and kindness."

Chinese Nationalists from raiding the mainland. He said he acted to prevent the spread of the Korean war.

Russia charged in the security council that Truman's action was an act of aggression against China, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky has asked that the assembly consider similar accusations.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said at yesterday's meeting of the steering committee that the Russian claim was "sheer propaganda" and he could not understand it.

TOO MUCH, TOO LONG—As if to blot out still vivid memories of his ordeal, this American soldier buries his face in his hands as he slumps from exhaustion on a pile of blankets. ## Fair Enough

New York, Sept. 22—President Truman's plan of civil defense puts so much emphasis on public relations, which is an aristocratic term for publicity or press-agent-ry, that John O'Donnell, the Wash- ington correspondent, has given it a going over as a repetition, with variations, of the frivolities of the office of civilian defense of World War II.

This country has suffered no at- tack since the war between the states, so long ago that nobody can remember. In the event of at- tack with the atomic bomb or even with the lesser types of ex- plosives the population under fire would have to endure an ordeal comparable to the soldier's first experience under fire. It would be similar but worse because, when- ever it is possible, a green soldier is put in the company of com- rades who are battle-wise.

Relatively few Americans have had experience under any aerial bombardment and their experience was limited to the conventional ex- plosives. They and many Europeans know something about being "up- lined," rescued and cleaned up in ruins in such cases, but nobody really knows what the atomic bomb could do to New York, Washington, Pittsburgh or any other large city. No city with an important problem of perpendic- ular transportation ever has been hit by an atom bomb. It is hard to see how any number of press agents or public information di- rectors, however expert and de- voted, can prepare any city for the experience because they know nothing about it themselves.

It surely is important, however, to refrain from using this emer- gency as another pretext for load- ing the public payrolls with per- sons whose services would be, to say the best of them, unimportant. The practical thing to do surely must be to tell us all first just how much our government knows about Russia's supply of atomic bombs and her ability to deliver them where. My contacts include some men who should know some- thing about Russia's progress, but their remarks reflect only specu- lation. What are the possibilities and the probabilities? What was there to the remarks of General Anderson, who was fired from his job at Maxwell field, about beat-in the Russians to the punch. The Russians certainly know. Why can't the Americans?

I know John O'Donnell has been pasted around by members of the cult for impiety toward the great spirit of Hyde Park, but the situation in Washington that he refers to was so grotesque that his recol- lections are justified. People have a happy faculty of forgetting enormities, but if we are heading into any such nonsense again, as prevailed in the office of civilian defense this is the time to make corrections. Things were so bad then that even Ray Clapper, a New Dealer to the marrow, had to let go with one of the few blasts of his optimistic career.

"Half the trouble around here would be got rid of," he wrote, "if President Roosevelt would haul Mrs. Roosevelt out of the place. Most of the remaining trouble would be erased if the epi- ratic and irascible activities of Mayor La Guardia were removed from the scene. The office of civilian defense has done a vast amount of work and done it well. But its effectiveness has been un- dermined by the misused talents of Mayor La Guardia and Mrs. Roosevelt. There is hesitation in congress about saying much be- cause nobody wants to criticize the wife of the President. The of- fice of civilian defense has be- come a kind of personal parking lot for the pets and proteges of Mrs. Roosevelt and some of them at salaries larger than a brigadi- er general or a rear admiral gets.

Last November, Mrs. Roose- velt, after a long absence, was in the city, which is more than a year, which is more than a major in the army gets. Her job is to encourage rhythmic dancing for children. When I asked how she got there I was told through Mrs. Roosevelt, Melvyn Douglas, the moving picture star, will run a kind of service exchange for actors, writers and musicians who want to do something for de- fense. He got there through Mrs. Roosevelt. The three new execu- tives who will direct the volun- teer participation work are selec- tions of Mrs. Roosevelt. The place is filled with them.

It is incredible that President Roosevelt will allow this situa- tion to continue much longer. It has become a public scandal. How can you have any kind of morale with a subordinate em- ployee, who happens to be the wife of the President, flitting in and out between lecture engage- ments to toss a few more pets into nice jobs? What does the school teacher who has to stand a watch at a school building all night for civilian defense think about that? The O. C. D. is charged with the most serious responsibilities. On the fire pro- tection side it has worked faith-

Hope Goes to Prescott for Game Tonight

The Hope Bobcats journey to Prescott tonight for a game with the hopeful Curly Wolves at Cummins field starting at 8 o'clock.

Hope will outgrow the Wolves considerably and is picked by most to come out on the top side of the score. The Cats have seen plenty of action this week in an effort to correct mistakes.

Both teams will be seeking their first victory of the season and plenty of action is promised fans. Many local fans will follow the Bobcats to Prescott.

fully at them. Most of that was handled by army and navy of- ficers and experienced firemen and technicians. It is only fair to say La Guardia did some valu- able pioneering.

After that the place was cleaned up, but we never were bombed and clapper's alarm, al- though appropriate, was unneces- sary. This time the people are given to think that the danger is grave and to prepare themselves spiritually and physically for something beyond imagination. And, as O'Donnell says, we get press agents.

New York, Sept. 22 —(AP) Of- ficial figures on the international semi-pro "World Series" in Japan show that the Fort Wayne, Ind., Capeharts drew 317,000 fans for five series games and three exhi- bitions. . . And they still talk about moving the Brownies to places like Milwaukee or Los An- geles. Why not Tokyo? . . . Don Laz, the Illinois pole vaulter, says he's playing football this fall to strengthen his legs for vaulting.

The fact that he's the best pun- ter on the squad could have some- thing to do with it, too. . . The U. of Florida doesn't have a letter- man to play tackle or center this fall and only ten seniors on a squad of 65. . . The Eastern In- tercollegiate Football association is running a two-day football clinic for the benefit of newspaper- men next week. It won't help them at bit when it comes to pick- ing winners.

 Like most football coaches, St. Bonaventure's Joe Bach hasn't seen much of his family since a fall practice started. . . But the other night he reached home in time to hear his four-year-old daughter, Joanne, say her bed- time prayers. . . As she finished, Joanne paused, then added: "I hope daddy's football players win." . . . Deeply touched, Joe said: "I hope so, too, honey." . . . "Well," shot back Joanne, "All I can say is—they better."

Trinity college, which wants no part of big time football, thinks it has a real big- time player in Tackle Ed Kulas, who never played football before he came under Prof. Dan Jessee's wing. . . Trainer Willie Knapp has had to scratch three rings out of nine races worth $330,000 this summer because the gelding can't run on a damp track. Willie now is looking forward to the Florida season, where "weather clear, track fast" is the rule. . .  The Detroit Tigers go after un- disputed possession of first place in the see-saw American league pennant struggle tonight while the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox are idle.

Detroit takes on the tough Indi- ans in Cleveland in the first of a three game series while the Yanks and Red Sox mark time, before opening a two game series, at Yankee stadium tomorrow.

The Tigers tied the Yanks for the lead yesterday by trouncing the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-2. The Red Sox and the Yanks were in- scheduled.

Hal Newhouser, 29-year-old left- hander, as been selected to pitch for the Tigers against the Indians. Bob Feller, Both boast identical 14-11 records.

The Indians have proved one of the Tigers' toughest adversaries this year. They have clashed, 17 times, with each side winning eight games. The other resulted in a 2-3 tie. The victories were evenly distributed, four for each in Cleveland and Detroit.

Newhouser has beaten the Indi- ans four times and lost to them twice. Both of his defeats came in Cleveland. Feller holds a 2-2 record against the Tigers.

Meanwhile, Yank Manager Casey Stengel has a pitching prob- lem to solve. His team will work out at the stadium today and two of his aces, Righthander Vic Ras- chi and Lefthander Ed Lopat, will try out their ailing arms.

The Tigers jumped on Joe Cole- man, who has had arm trouble, for six runs in the first six innings and were never headed. Coleman, who walked nine, lingered six in- ings. The A's have only nine pitchers, including three rookies.

The game was the only one scheduled in the American league in the National League. The Boston Braves defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-0, and the Brooklyn Dodgers thumped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-8, to remain tied for second place. They trail the league-leading Philadelphia Phil- lies by seven games. The Phil- and Chicago Cubs were idle.

Warren Spahn blanked the Cards on two hits to rack up his 1st firstory. The Braves sewed things up in the first inning when Jethroe crashed his 7th home run with a man on base.

The Dodgers overcame a 4-1 de- ficit with four runs in the fourth inning and followed up with five more in the fifth to clinch the vic- tory over the Pirates.

In the only other game, the Car- ennati Reds defeated the New York Giants, 8-5. The Reds piled up a 7-1 lead in four innings for Howie Fox. Fox blew up in the eighth and granted four runs before Frank Smith came on to save the game.

The victory ended an 11-game winning streak for Giant Right- hander Sal Maglie. The loss was Maglie's fourth against 16 vic- tories. Three of the setbacks were administered by the Reds.

kid. She's just being a little nutty, right now. She'll get over it.

"I hope so," said Tommy, with feeling.

"She will," Edie pressed his hand. "In the meantime, I'm on your side. If that'll do any good."

He gave her a grateful look. "It helps," he said, and drove away.

Edie went upstairs on tiptoe, but it didn't work. There was a light under Jennifer's door and, as she passed it, the door opened. Jenn came out, attired in Chinese pa- jamas.

"Where on earth have you been, Edie Frey?" she demanded. "It's 4 in the morning."

"Out," Edie said. "For that mat- ter, why aren't you in bed?"

"I only got in myself half an hour ago," Jenn confessed.

Edie said wickedly. "You haven't been keeping Hamilton up, have you?"

Jenn stared at her. "How did you know I was out with him?"

"I'm clairvoyant," Edie said. "Goodnight, darling."

But Jenn followed her into the room. "Where were you?" she persisted.

"I'm over 21. I don't have to give an accounting of myself, do I?"

"No," Jenn was suspicious. "But it seems funny. You've never pulled one like this before."

Edie was looking at a letter from Peter Flood that someone had left on her dressing-table. It had come air mail and special delivery. The outside of the envelope was colorfully plastered with stamps.

"If you've got to know," she said, "I went out with a very charming young man. That's all. Good night, Jenn!"

Edie took her sister by the shoulder, wheeled her around and pushed her out of the door. She turned the key in the lock.

One of Jenn's soft mule thudds angrily against the outside of the door. Then Edie heard her going to her room. Edie smiled and opened the letter from Peter. The next instant it dropped from her fingers.

Peter Flood was asking for a divorce.

"You forget that Jenn's only a

Marshall Takes Oath, Confers With Staff

Washington, Sept. 21 — (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall today became the nation's third secretary of defense and promptly went into a conference with the joint chief of staff, leaders of the military services.

Marshall took the oath at a private, early morning ceremony in the Pentagon attended only by five other persons.

A short time later, Marshall's special mission to China in 1945 came under discussion at President Truman's news conference.

The matter was brought up by a reporter who said Marshall, in testifying Tuesday before the senate armed services committee, had disclaimed personal responsibility for this country's 1946 China policy.

Marshall appeared before the senate committee hearings on his nomination to be defense secretary.

The general said then that American policy toward China was worked out in the state department while he himself was testifying to congress in December 1945, on the Pearl Harbor catastrophe. He said the policy was announced while he was on his way to China.

Mr. Truman commented today that Marshall wasn't secretary of state at the time he was sent to China.

He said Marshall went over to China as the President's special envoy at the request of the Presi-

WHEN the first shock of the thing was over, Ede was utterly amazed at her own reaction. It did not seem possible that anyone who had been as much in love as she had only a few short years ago could now receive such news with almost a sense of relief.

And yet, analyzing her life with Peter Flood dispassionately, she saw how, gradually but inexorably, Peter's attitude had turned the early affection she had felt for him to coolness, then to indifference, then at last to a strange uncomfortable sensation amounting nearly to distaste. In the first year of their marriage she had been only too willing to excuse his selfishness on the grounds of "temperament"; to indulge his whims, humors and petulance in the belief that they were nothing more than unpleasant camouflage hiding something really fine in Peter Flood.

But time had gone on and the fineness had not developed. Instead, Peter's temperament had increased; his attractiveness dwindled in proportion. The bald truth, Ede realized now, was that Peter was a taker. He took everything; he gave nothing. And when something he wanted but could not take dangled just out of his reach, he sulked about it interminably.

His obvious and unexpected disappointment at Ede's reduced financial condition after their marriage had been almost more than she could bear. It was horrible and, somehow, degrading.

Explanation of New Red Control Bill

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 22 — (AP) This is a 1-2-3 explanation of what the new Communist-control bill, just passed by congress, sets out to do.

It will become law if President Truman signs it or if he vetoes it and congress re-passes it over the veto.

The bill does not outlaw the Communist party. So it does not make being a Communist or sympathizer illegal. Its stated purpose is to:

Force Communists and their sympathizers into the open; prevent spying and sabotage; keep Communists out of government jobs and defense plants; give the government power to intern Communists in a wide roundup during war or emergency; deport Communist aliens; and keep such aliens out.

Whether this bill as law could do what it proposes to do—or would be worse in some ways than no such law at all—is a matter of argument.

Some of the bill's critics say certain parts of it would help Communist control. And they say the bill, in the end, might hurt innocent people and damage civil liberties.

One thing is certain: This is not a simple bill but a complicated one.

And much that it sets out to do depends on a number of "ifs." Space here is too limited to attempt an examination of the bill in detail. So what follows is mere skeleton outline of what the bill as law would do—if it worked as it is intended to:

1. The officers of the Communist party, other Communist outfits, and Communist fronts would have to register with the government.

2. Further, the Communist outfits, but not Communist fronts, would have to reveal the names of their members.

3. These officials of a Communist organization or Communist front would have to reveal who gave them money and how it was spent.

4. It would be a crime for any member of a Communist group or Communist front to hold a government job—unless elected to it.

5. And much that it sets out to do depends on a number of "ifs." Space here is too limited to attempt an examination of the bill in detail. So what follows is mere skeleton outline of what the bill as law would do—if it worked as it is intended to:

Ewing Attacks Public Health Programs

Houston, Sept. 22 — (AP)—scarcely a day goes by without Ewing, federal security administrator, told the American Federation of Labor today opponents of the government's public health program are "stupid and dangerous."

The chief opponent, he said in an address prepared for the 69th annual AFL convention, is the American Medical Association. Ewing declared the AMA is hiring professional propagandists for large sums in hope of electing "reactionary" candidates in the November elections.

The AFL yesterday elected William Green to his 27th year as president. The 77-year-old former Ohio coal miner carried back into office with him the 13 AFL vice-presidents and secretary-treasurer George Meaney.

Green, smiling broadly as delegates in the hot, dimly-lighted auditorium gave him a standing ovation, promised renewed efforts toward an AFL-CIO merger. He said he would step down from office if that would help bring about "organic labor unity."

Ewing said the AMA has raised $1,100,000 through a compulsory levy on its members "in a drive to defeat every liberal-minded candidate for office this year."

In addition, said Ewing, the AMA has the promise of $10,000,000 more "chipped in by business firms, manufacturers, patent medicine companies, in insurance companies, railroads and power companies."

This "pretty big piece of cash," said Ewing, is to be thrown into a campaign against "the imaginary target of 'socialized medicine'—which nobody in this country wants."

"There is something significant about the fact that this campaign is concentrated on the week of October 8, just before the crucial elections in November. X X X the plain fact is that the powerful men who run the American Medical association are using their organization to promote the political ends of reaction. They have created the 1950 war chest of reaction."

There was plenty to do, even with Mr. Northcott temporarily quiet. Old Mr. Lyons of Lyons Bread chose this moment to kick up one of his periodic fusses.

Lyons Bread was Reagan's account and Reagan's headache. But, in company with Reagan, Ede called upon Mr. Lyons. She found him a twittish little man with an irritating manner. He was upset about a newspaper campaign which Reagan had recently presented to him. Mr. Lyons, Mr. Lyons averred, didn't like anything about it.

But when Reagan, with more patience than Ede would have suspected him of, tried to pin him down to just what he didn't like about the series of advertisements, Lyons apparently couldn't say. He pursed his mouth and replied evasively. There wasn't anything he could put his fingers on. It was the whole thing, the basic idea. He just didn't believe that these ads would sell bread. He fumed. Reagan let him fume. And after Mr. Lyons had exhausted himself, Reagan more or less forced the campaign down his throat.

"Now you see," he said to Ede, "on the way home, 'why contact men get gray.'"

"What a meanly-mouthed little man that is," Ede said. "I wonder you can stand him, Dan."

Reagan grinned. "He spends $600,000. I can stand him for the commission on that."

"But was it wise to make him take those ads, Dan? He didn't like them and you said the account was shaky."

Reagan spread his hands. "There's no other way to handle him. If we let him walk on us, well, he'll trample. We'd get up campaigns till the cows come home and he'd turn them down one after the other. No, we've got to be tough with him and take our chances."

Louise Suggs Favored to Take Meet

Carrollton, Ga., Sept. 22 — (AP)—Little Louise Suggs and rangy and powerful Babe Zaharias were all square with three-under-par 71s as the 28-golfer field moved to the second round today in the $3,000 Sunset Hills Invitational tournament.

The Babe came in last yesterday to equal Louise's score for twice around the 3,155-yard, nine-hole course and drop early leader Betty Berg into third place with her 72.

All three are professionals as is Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., who tied with Amateur Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., for fourth with a 73.

Ewing Attacks Public Health Programs

Houston, Sept. 22 — (AP)—scarcely a day goes by without Ewing, federal security administrator, told the American Federation of Labor today opponents of the government's public health program are "stupid and dangerous."

The chief opponent, he said in an address prepared for the 69th annual AFL convention, is the American Medical Association. Ewing declared the AMA is hiring professional propagandists for large sums in hope of electing "reactionary" candidates in the November elections.

The AFL yesterday elected William Green to his 27th year as president. The 77-year-old former Ohio coal miner carried back into office with him the 13 AFL vice-presidents and secretary-treasurer George Meaney.

Green, smiling broadly as delegates in the hot, dimly-lighted auditorium gave him a standing ovation, promised renewed efforts toward an AFL-CIO merger. He said he would step down from office if that would help bring about "organic labor unity."

Ewing said the AMA has raised $1,100,000 through a compulsory levy on its members "in a drive to defeat every liberal-minded candidate for office this year."

In addition, said Ewing, the AMA has the promise of $10,000,000 more "chipped in by business firms, manufacturers, patent medicine companies, in insurance companies, railroads and power companies."

This "pretty big piece of cash," said Ewing, is to be thrown into a campaign against "the imaginary target of 'socialized medicine'—which nobody in this country wants."

"There is something significant about the fact that this campaign is concentrated on the week of October 8, just before the crucial elections in November. X X X the plain fact is that the powerful men who run the American Medical association are using their organization to promote the political ends of reaction. They have created the 1950 war chest of reaction."

There was plenty to do, even with Mr. Northcott temporarily quiet. Old Mr. Lyons of Lyons Bread chose this moment to kick up one of his periodic fusses.

Lyons Bread was Reagan's account and Reagan's headache. But, in company with Reagan, Ede called upon Mr. Lyons. She found him a twittish little man with an irritating manner. He was upset about a newspaper campaign which Reagan had recently presented to him. Mr. Lyons, Mr. Lyons averred, didn't like anything about it.

But when Reagan, with more patience than Ede would have suspected him of, tried to pin him down to just what he didn't like about the series of advertisements, Lyons apparently couldn't say. He pursed his mouth and replied evasively. There wasn't anything he could put his fingers on. It was the whole thing, the basic idea. He just didn't believe that these ads would sell bread. He fumed. Reagan let him fume. And after Mr. Lyons had exhausted himself, Reagan more or less forced the campaign down his throat.

"Now you see," he said to Ede, "on the way home, 'why contact men get gray.'"

"What a meanly-mouthed little man that is," Ede said. "I wonder you can stand him, Dan."

Reagan grinned. "He spends $600,000. I can stand him for the commission on that."

"But was it wise to make him take those ads, Dan? He didn't like them and you said the account was shaky."

Reagan spread his hands. "There's no other way to handle him. If we let him walk on us, well, he'll trample. We'd get up campaigns till the cows come home and he'd turn them down one after the other. No, we've got to be tough with him and take our chances."
